Family History : This is an old Sicilian family. Some of these were taken less seriously by the authorities in Rome and full recognition had to wait until 1990.

Originally Spanish, the Fatto family emigrated to Sicily in the XVI century, where they were recognised as noble. From there, they slowly amassed various properties. Girolamo, now Baron di Carbonogara, married Ignazia del Bosco and this brought into the family the title of Prince di Belvedere. In 1925, authorisation was given to join the two names.
